Chapter 9	Recommendation 9.1

Chapter 9 - The Community Mental Health Team (CMHT)

To provide an effective community-based service, CMHTs should offer multidisciplinary home-based treatment and assertive outreach, and a comprehensive range of medical, psychological and social therapies relevant to the needs of service users and their families. Each multidisciplinary team should include the core skills of psychiatry, nursing, social work, clinical psychology, occupational therapy. The composition and skill mix of each CMHT should be appropriate to the needs and social circumstances of its sector population.

Vision for Change Independent Monitoring Group Report for Jan 2010

LOCAL Recommendations
HSE REGION: DML	Catchment: Dublin South City
Date: 27 th January 2010	Completed by:
Chapter 16	Recommendation 16.8

CHAPTER 16 - Management and organisation of mental health services Mental Health Catchment Area Management Teams should facilitate the full integration of mental health services with other community care area programmes. This should include the maximum involvement with self-help and voluntary groups together with relevant local authority services.

Recommendation Completion in this Area (Tick Box)

MHS has been attending some primary care teams. The service has also attempted to hold education sessions for GP's with little success. The service has established links with some community groups and there is informal links between the various Care Group Managers in the LHO.

Reason for partial completion / not yet

A lack of resource on each team has prevented more formal links/commitment to each PCT. Not having MHS & LHO boundaries coterminous is also a restriction.

Please share the key learning points which have evolved in the implementation of this recommendation

We could have more structured involvement with PCT but a lack of staff on the ground makes it difficult to commit anything more than consultation as requested.

New staff receives an induction and policies are applied in accordance with HSE guidelines. Managers try and accommodate staff with rostering where possible but service needs are prioritised.

Reason for partial completion / not yet

Family friendly policies are a matter for the organisation as a whole. Rostering is tight and this can leave little flexibility at times. This essentially comes down to a lack of resources if a request for flexibility is not met.

CHAPTER 18 - Manpower, education and training A flexible retirement package should be considered to make the best use of valuable experienced staff. This would enable staff nearing retirement to move into part-time work without reducing pension benefit or to retire while carrying on with full or part-time work. Staff earlier on in their career should be able to take a career break and still contribute to their pension benefits.

CHAPTER 18 - Manpower, education and training A personal training and development plan or equivalent should be introduced for all grades of staff in the mental health services. This should help managers set priorities for the use of resources in order to meet common needs more efficiently, organise staff release and target and schedule in-house education and training. In this regard it is also important to make available clear information about routes to employment training and career progression within the mental health service.
